

Dear Sirs:

Please fight to uphold the current Do Not Call Law as it has improved our lives. This law has greatly limited annoying interruptions we use to have to deal with when trying to spend quality time with our children, family and friends. Now the telemarketers have been calling me on my business number and I wish something could be done to stop this annoyance as well. They can always send any exceptional sales offers to us by regular mail.